1 Trial version

You have the option of testing the software for free for 30 days from the initial installation. After that the software switches to restricted mode. It is then no longer possible to create new projects or print documents. These functions are only available to you again following licensing.

Once licensed, you can continue to work directly on the data you previously entered in the trial version.

Tip

Below we will show you how to successfully license

- a single-user version
- a multi-user version for multiple work stations or
- a floating version

If you don't know which licence model was purchased by your company, our customer service can tell you. E-Mail: service@weka.de.

Tip

2 Online licensing of a single-user version

Please note that by activating the licence, irrespective of the approval period, you have made a final purchase of the software for use at a charge.

1. Install the single-user version of the WEKA Manager CE software on your computer.
2. When the program is launched for the first time, the following window appears on your screen:

Under <Info> you will find this licensing information in the form of a PDF file.

By selecting <Continue> you can launch the software in unlicensed mode, e.g. as a demo version.

Click on <Licence> to continue licensing the software.

3. Online licensing:

It will be sufficient for online licensing if port 443 is open and name resolution by DNS is possible. The corresponding computer must be able to access the webpage <https://wsp.weka.de> in order to obtain the licence information. If access is not possible (e.g. due to firewall or virus scanner settings), please contact your IT administrator.

If your computer does not have an internet connection, you will have to conduct licensing using an offline key. See section 5.

Note

5 Offline licensing of the software

Please note that by activating the licence, irrespective of the approval period, you have made a final purchase of the software for use at a charge.

If the computer or network on which you are running the WEKA Manager CE software does not have an internet connection, you can license the software using a so-called offline key.

Offline licensing is not the standard option and does involve some limitations. Therefore please check whether you could instead perform online licensing.

It will be sufficient for online licensing if port 443 is open and name resolution by DNS is possible. The corresponding computer must be able to access the webpage <https://wsp.weka.de> in order to obtain the licence information. If access is not possible (e.g. due to firewall or virus scanner settings), please contact your IT administrator.

Note

Getting an offline key

For offline licensing you will require a so-called offline key. You must generate an offline key directly on www.weka.de with “Mein Konto” (only available in German language).. You will therefore require a computer with an internet connection on which you can access our website www.weka.de. There you can generate and download an offline key.

You can then load this offline key e.g. using a USB stick on the computer on which you want to run the WEKA Manager CE.

You can only generate an offline key once and this is then customised to a specific device. It is not possible to return the licence and use the licence on another computer!

Please note

To get your offline key please contact our technical support:

E-Mail: techsupport@weka.de

6 Updates

Generally speaking, it is not necessary to license again after a software update.

However offline keys must be renewed after each update. For information on how to license the software with an offline key, please refer to section 5.
